Up to the eighth there was a good chance for a complete shut out, but at that stage of the game, with two out, Simpson made a hit. Muir had gone to first on a pass and made third in safety. Houston hit and Simpson sprinted for third. Horsfall at first got a bit rattled and threw the ball away over third and both runners scored.

PACKY McFARLAND AND GILMORE PLAY QUITS

Chicago, April 26.—Packey McFar-land, Chicago's puglistic idol and probably the greatest fighter this city has turned out in years, and Harry Gilmore, his manager, perhaps the keenest, cleverest and most enterprising nanager in pugilism today, have part-

There is no ill feeling between these There is no ill feeling between these two men, nor has there been any financial trouble or misunderstanding between them. McFarland has the highest regard for his former manager and lauds him for his good work, but the Chicago scrapper believes he has entered that stage in puglism where he can handle his own affairs and have that share of the purses that goes to a manager.

that share of the purses that goes to a manager.

The news of their parting came to young Gilmore like a streak of light-ning out of a clear sky and he is still stunned by the blow.

Speaking of the change, McFarland says:

'I have the highest regard for Harry "I have the highest regard for Harry Gilmore that anyone can hold. He acted for me as a father, he fought for my interests as no other man could fight, he was out for McFarland first, last and all the time, and I never want to forget his kindness, but I feel that I am able to do my own business now. We have always been thick friends and I want to continue as such.

"There are but two more fights that I care for and then my pugilistic career will be ended, and I feel that I can handle these two without the aid of a manager. I want to fight Nelson, for I know he is easy for me. Then I will take on Gans and my career will be at an end. It is the wish of my mother that I quit the fighting game and I want to grant her that request. It's up to me to get all the money I can out of the game now and the percentage that a manager would get will come in mighty handy. I have a few weeks' theatrical engagements on and when these are ended Nelson will likely be ready for me. I might take on Gans in July.

"I hope I can impress upon the minds of the public the story that there is nothing between Harry and me that causes parting. He is a clever manager, is as honest as the day is long, as shrewd as they make them and as enterprising as ever a man dared to be as shrewd as they make them and as enterprising as ever a man dared to be. For gameness he has no equal, and any man who is fortunate enough to secure Gilmore as a manager will not regret the move. It was with grief that I sent the word that we must part, but I did it in the interests of Packey Mc-

AUTO RACE MAY

BE RUN IN CUBA

New York, April 27.—There is a prospects, according to W. J. Morgan, eigabizer of the Ormond Beach Automobile meets that a big automobile road race will be run in Cuba next winter. Mr. Morgan met Gov. Magoon in Cuba recently and talked the matter over with him. Gov, Magoon told Magan that there will be a great many miles of good roads built in Cuba this year and when Mr. Morgan troached the subject of a big road race the governor, Mr. Morgan says, told him he would do all he could to make it so that Cuba can have a big international road contest. A successful road race was held in Cuba several winters ago, but it was then necessary to establish controls at each end of the course. For the race planned for next winter, however, it is experted that a continuous circuit will be available by using some of the roads to be constructed the coming summer.

Dr. F. J. Born of Yale Says They Are Good Citizens.

New Haven, Conn., April 26.- In his New Haven, Conn., April 26.—In his report upon the physique of the crew, football and track teams at Yale, Dr. F. J. Born, medical director of the gymnasium, declares that, however much college athletics are criticised by the intellectual, their value as an incentive in the development of the highest type of physical manhood and as a moral agent in the development and formation of character has not depreciated. Figures are given showing that the chest of the average Yale athlete examined presented the typical oval shape found in the healthy adult, and a ined presented the typical oval shape found in the healthy adult, and a flexibility far above the average. The supraclavicular fessae, the notches above the clavisles, were less prominent, due to the fact that the apices of the lungs, that portion which in many individuals is in a permanent state of collapse and is never called into action, were well developed as a result of the deep respiration made necessary by violent exercise.

ENGLISH TEAM COMING.

ENGLISH TEAM COMING.

New York, April 27.—There seems to be every probability that an English lawn tennis team will play in America during the coming summer. This team will not only take part in the regular American championship tournament, but will play against the American team, the first tie in the contest for the Davis cup, won last year by a team from Australia. The winners of the match will go to Australia in an effort to recapture the cup. The American association does not think it worth while for both the English and American teams to make the journey to Australia, and therefore propose that the English send a team to America to play the American team, the winners only going to Australia. The Dougherty brothers, former holders of the cup, are not expected to compete this year, the most likely English players being A. W. Gore, Frank Risley, and S. H. Smith. Among the Americans who are expected to try for places on the team are W. A. Larned, Beals C. Wright, Karl Behr, R. D. Little, Robert Le Roy, Clarence Hobart, E. P. Larned, R. C. Colston. Although not ranked last, W. J. Clothler and F. E. Alexander are also named as and F. C. Colston. Although not rarked last, W. J. Clothler and F. B. There are thousands of people who want Mapl-Flake and don't get it, because it costs 15 cents. They cling to the 10-cent foods.

First, let us figure rightly.

Let us include the cream. Add the cream cost to the food cost and see how trifling the difference between one and the other.

Then think of this: We spend 96 hours in preparing Mapl-Flake, while flakes can be prepared in from 18 to 20 hours.

Do you suppose we would spend those extra 76 hours without a vital reason?

Would we be likely to add more to the cost than we know that we add to the food value?

Six hours are spent in steam-cooking. Then the wheat is cured. Then each separate berry is flaked so thin that the full heat of the oven can reach every atom. Then we toast, for 30 minutes, at 400 degrees. We derive our delicious flavor by cooking the wheat in pure maple syrup.

The purpose of our long process is to make all the starch soluble. For starch is the main part of wheat. The granules of starch must separated, so the digestive juices can get A food cooked half so well digests about
